Through The Aid of Story . . .

During the final months of one's Senior year and after graduation, one looks back upon four years of a lifetime and remembers . . .

There are very many things to recall about the four years of high school. So very much happiness and disappointment is crowded into these short years. But perhaps as time passes one forgets the disappointments and encompasses the happiness with a golden hue, making the years spent at Boyden High something wonderful on which to reminisce.

A multitude of seemingly insignificant things are the components of worthwhile memories. Twenty years after graduation, will you remember the long, marble-floored halls, the clocks whose hands jumped as the minutes passed, the endless queue at the water fountain, the red couch in the office, the resulting rush when the bell rang signaling the change of classes? Will you remember your feelings as you cheered at a football game with a leaky umbrella over your head, wet bleachers beneath you, and torrents of rain whipping at you from all sides? Will you remember the thrill of a noisy auditorium as it became suddenly still? Will you remember the weeks when you were responsible for homeroom clean-up and you scrubbed grimy blackboards and lined up chairs upon a precise board? Will you remember the difficulty you experienced when you parked your car in the circle?

These are but a few of the memorable everyday occurrences, which are not too important, but yet are an integral part of Boyden life. There are, however, more outstanding details which are displayed on the forthcoming pages.

Do you remember . . .

"Here's to dear ol' Salisbury,
Faithful and bold.
Here's to our banner,
All black and gold.
Here's to men and women who come and go,
Singing the victory song of 'ol' SHS."

This volume is humbly dedicated to the memory of

who, throughout her many years of diligent, unselfish, and devoted service, contributed to all the ideals and aesthetic principles of the ultimate of all arts—the Art of Living.

She was adept in this accomplishment; she had a zest for life that few could imitate; she gave willingly of her time to every student who needed her help or advice. Kindling an inner fire, she revitalized the lambent flame of moral enthusiasm while revealing the worth and permanency of moral, spiritual, and cultural values. She gave honest appreciation and praise to everything good and beautiful and taught her students to revere the fanciful and imaginative as well as the more concrete intellectual pursuits. She recognized the right of educating the individual and realized that the student is manifestly worthy of having his dignity respected. Because she was a good teacher who made herself progressively unnecessary, her classroom was the living example of democracy. She did not dictate; she only advised.

Looking into the future, she visualized the world of tomorrow in which we would live and tried her utmost to prepare us for a place in it.

At all times taking an active part in community and church activities, her beneficent mind and capable hands eagerly rendered untiring service to others.

Though sadly missed, she is revered by all who knew and loved her. Her principles and teachings will be extended and augmented as her students apply them throughout their lives.

An encomium cannot express the deep and meaningful value that her students place upon the privilege of having known her. The highest tribute we can pay to the memory of Miss Lippard is humbly to say—she was more than a teacher, she was our friend.

CLASS OFFICERS

Tommy Miller, President; Dan Julian, Vice-President; Phyllis Kennerly, Secretary; Eddie Pring, Treasurer.

Do you remember our Senior year? At last we were the important ones; everyone looked to us for strength and leadership. We were the football and basketball heroes, the school officers, and the club leaders. This was the year during which we left the auditorium while the underclassmen rendered us homage by remaining in their seats until we had passed down the aisles. We wrote our own original Class Day play, and we received most of the awards at the Awards Assembly. As guests of the Juniors, we were thrilled and surprised by the Junior Class at the glorious Junior-Senior Prom.

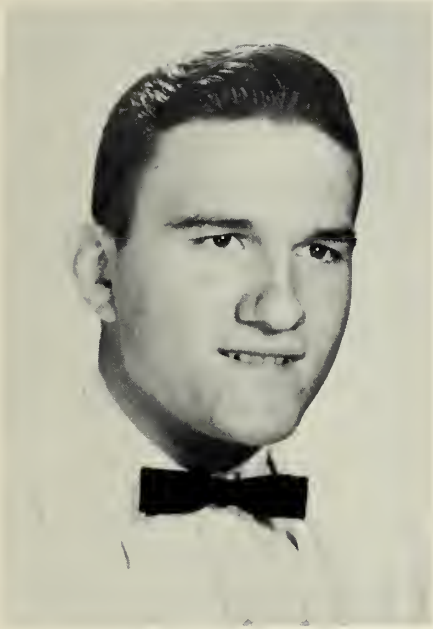

We had a wonderful time, but we learned many things which were of value to us. Some of our classmates were inducted into the National Honor Society, and some of us became members of the Quill and Scroll; a few of us were Junior Altrusans and Junior Rotarians.

Our Senior year was a time of finality. This year brought with it the last competitive magazine drive in which we could participate, the last homecoming half-time ceremony, the last football game, the last loyalty night, the last high school exams, the last time that this same group, which had laughed and cried together, would be a class.

We eagerly anticipated our graduation night, but during those final moments with our classmates, friends, and teachers, the whole parade of events passed before us in our minds. Outwardly, we were giddy and jubilant, but inside, there was a swelling of sad emotion. It was all over! BHS we loved you! With suppressed mist upon our eyes, we said adieu, and with lagging steps we walked before the audience of parents and friends to receive our diplomas, armed with devotion and pride for our teachers and for Boyden. This was the end—when we were handed our diplomas, it was goodbye, Boyden, goodbye . . . goodbye . . . goodbye . . .

CLASS OFFICERS

Joan Day, Secretary; Hayden Simerson, President; Sammy Bowyer, Treasurer; Don Mowery, Vice-President.

Do you remember your Junior year? At last we had moved to the center section of the auditorium. We had more privileges and were more highly respected. Our class members were becoming outstanding leaders of the school. Our big project was the planning of the Junior-Senior Prom for which months of preparation made ours the most magnificent ever held—but, maybe we were prejudiced. Our Junior year was a busy time; it was the year of chemistry projects, geometry theorems, and TV history. A select few of us were honored with membership in the National Honor Society, and some of us were chosen to be cheerleaders and to attend Girls' and Boys' State. We wrote for the "Yellow Jacket," spoke French and Spanish, (or tried to), campaigned enthusiastically for our candidates for school offices, and served as Student Association Committee Chairman. Twelve of our outstanding class members became Marshals, we chose DAR Good Citizen, and we played on the Varsity teams.

At the end of our third year of high school, we hopefully awaited the coming fall when we would be Seniors . . .

In Memoriam

JULIAN LAURENS HARTER

The world is poorer because of the loss of Julian at so early an age. But all who knew him are richer because his spirit, wit, and quiet friendliness made a deep and unforgettable impression upon them. In this young boy there was no trace of acquisitiveness or malice; he disliked bad things, and liked good things. Julian was goodness, gentleness, and warmth of spirit; he was a boy, modest and humble. Always kind and thoughtful, he was a true friend, one that will be long remembered and sadly missed.

CLASS OFFICERS

Eddie Goldman, Vice-President; Wiley Ruth, President; Susan Brady, Secretary; Sara Lou Thomas, Treasurer.

Do you remember our Sophomore year? At last we felt we were a real part of Boyden and were no longer bewildered Freshmen. We were Junior Varsity stars, club members, and upperclassmen. We were promoted to downstairs auditorium seats, now it was our turn to initiate gleefully the unsuspecting Frosh; we had great fun directing them to peculiar places when they asked directions.

We became majorettes, and we played in the band. While writing our term papers, we began to think about our vocations and started to make plans for our futures.

Our classmates chose some of us to serve as hatcheck boys and waitresses at the Junior-Senior Prom. We experienced our first Science Fair and mumbled as we walked the halls, "amo, amas, amat." Never to be forgotten are the biology classes with frogs and grasshoppers and insects, and the long "gab" sessions at the drugstore after school. Masquerading as Romas at the Latin Banquet we naively bought and sold "slaves."

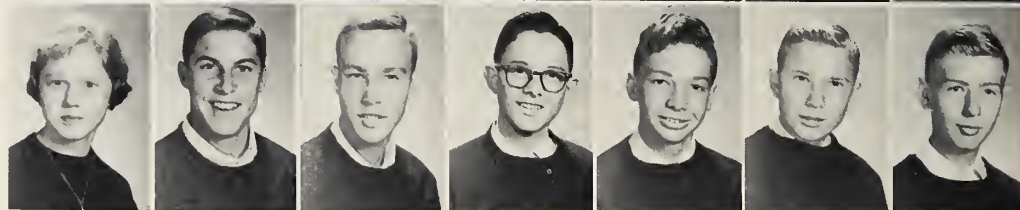

Some of us baked in the sun on beach house parties during the summer months while we eagerly awaited our Junior year. . . .

CLASS OFFICERS

Jeannie Smith, Treasurer; Bill Hight, President; Jeanette Murphy, Secretary; Jimmy Goodman, Vice-President.

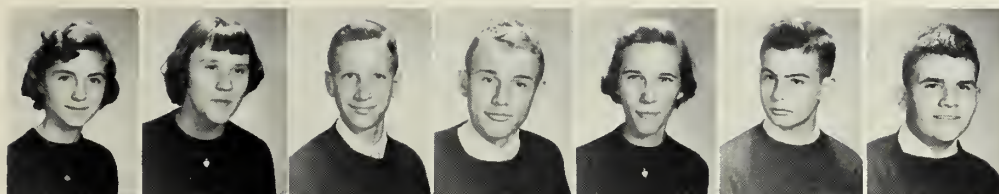

Do you remember our Freshman year? At last we were in high school! We were welcomed to Boyden with smeared lipstick and shoe polish and gentle maltreatment. Excitement engulfed us as we wandered to all of our new classes and became acquainted with teachers and classmates. Though lost at first, we soon became familiar with everything about Boyden.

We had wonderful school spirit; we cheered the loudest at football games and pep rallies; and we challenged everyone during our first magazine drive; we attended sock hops and bonfires, and we joined as many clubs as possible. We elected our first class officers, "crammed" for our first high school exams, and tried desperately to "make the honor roll." The girls sewed dresses and baked cookies while the boys busily sawed and hammered.

As Frosh we had a wonderful year, filled with interesting and exuberant experiences; but we knew the Sophomore year had more to offer, and we just couldn't wait . . .

*S*ometimes memories are considered to be solemn, devoid of emotion. It is to be hoped that when these pages are turned many years from now, emotions neither sad nor solemn will be experienced. Life at Boyden was a gay and happy experience which should be remembered as such. Youth is epitomized in Boyden; its halls do not echo with the tears of age, but rather with the laughter of youth.

Graduation is often considered an end, but at Boyden it is looked upon as a beginning of a new life made easier because of knowledge gained in high school study. "To Succeed As Citizens" tells Boydenites that never will their years at Boyden be ended until they have accomplished this one chief objective.

When you turn these pages, perhaps yellowed with age in years to come, will you recall the most important sentiment in your life at Boyden? Will you remember . . .

*"Hail to Alma Mater, our school, our life,
Hail to our dear Boyden, through storm and strife
Guiding as we shine on high, striving 'til we do or die
Singing as we march ever onward, ever high.*

*To succeed as citizens, this is our creed
To succeed as citizens, this will be our deed
Forward, upward, shine on high, leading, heeding,
'til we die
Singing as we march ever onward, ever high."*

Good luck, snowman
